Scarsdale Train Station Elevator Project Commencing

Beginning Monday, March 28, the MTA will begin staging for upcoming construction of a new elevator tower on the west side of the Scarsdale Metro North station to improve user accessibility. This project will begin construction in April and continue in stages over the course of the next year, with completion targeted for June 2023. Minimal impacts are anticipated for station users, as any necessary overpass closures are planned to be completed in the overnight hours. A Project Overview is available online for interested parties to review.

Next week's staging will include installation of temporary fencing around the construction site. The Depot Place moped and motorcycle parking corral located near the new elevator tower will not be accessible during construction. Permit holders for that location are being accommodated with alternate arrangements. As part of the project, the MTA will be providing new and expanded moped and motorcycle parking adjacent to the former corral.
